What good will sports do me?
I'm not about to go out there and work and sweat
just for my own satisfaction.
It doesn't matter what over 700 students from South
Decatur or anyone else in Southern Indiana thinks or cares. All that matters is what I think, and I think sports are a waste of time!

Upper center: "What'd he do Ref?" appears to be Mr. Hoffmeyer's question. Above: Mr. Denny is all wrapped up in his coaching. Far left: Greg Cruser eagerly looks forward to cross country practice. Left center: Mr. Shuter is a familiar face at track meets. Left: Charlie Hoover takes time off from practice to catch his breath.

Why should I put forth the effort
when no one else cares what I do? It's a waste of time anyway. Grades don't mean a thing, especially since a person is judged by what he accomplishes later in life.
Give me some time, and I'll set the world on fire
my own way.

To succeed in sports, a person has to want to reach the top. He has to set his goals high, and then strain every muscle and use every source of energy to reach them. He has to want it badly, and then be willing to put forth the effort it takes.

School is a place for development. How much a person improves himself depends on how much he wants to be improved.
Those who really want to get ahead in life are going to, and nothing on Earth can stop them.

The real satisfaction of playing sports comes in winning. To win is to see your dreams turn into reality. It means you have met the challenge face-to-face, and have come out on top. It's nice to win, but sometimes it's enough to know that you did better than your best.

Below: Notebooks are good for swatting flies (and teachers). Bottom: Senior chemistry students, Linda Hamilton, Kay Bruns, and Debbie Hitchell, do a little lab work. Right: Steve Thompson attempts a field goal after scoring a touchdown. Lower right: Eighth graders improve their reading skills in SRA. Far right: Surely Isaac Newton didn't start out this way, Greg.

The rewards of hard work can easily be seen in the faces of those who have put forth the effort.
The desire to succeed in life is a strong one in such people, and no doubt their dreams will come true. To succeed is proof of your efforts, proof you have struggled and won.

Below: Sophomore Keith Knight checks out the latest news. Right: Indiana's charismatic Senator Birch Bayh finds a receptive audience in the S.D. student body. Far right: Miss Hoyt smiles when surrounded by melodic sounds. Lower center: Juniors find Mr. Mulroney an interesting teacher. Lower right: Senior Debbie Hitchell folds programs in preparation for Friday night's game.

When we are born, someone is right there to take care of us and make our decisions for us. Soon however, each person realizes that he will have to start making the decisions. No longer will someone hold his hand for him and tell him that everything is going to be all right. There are problems in the world today, and decisions will have to be made. We will be making those decisions . . .
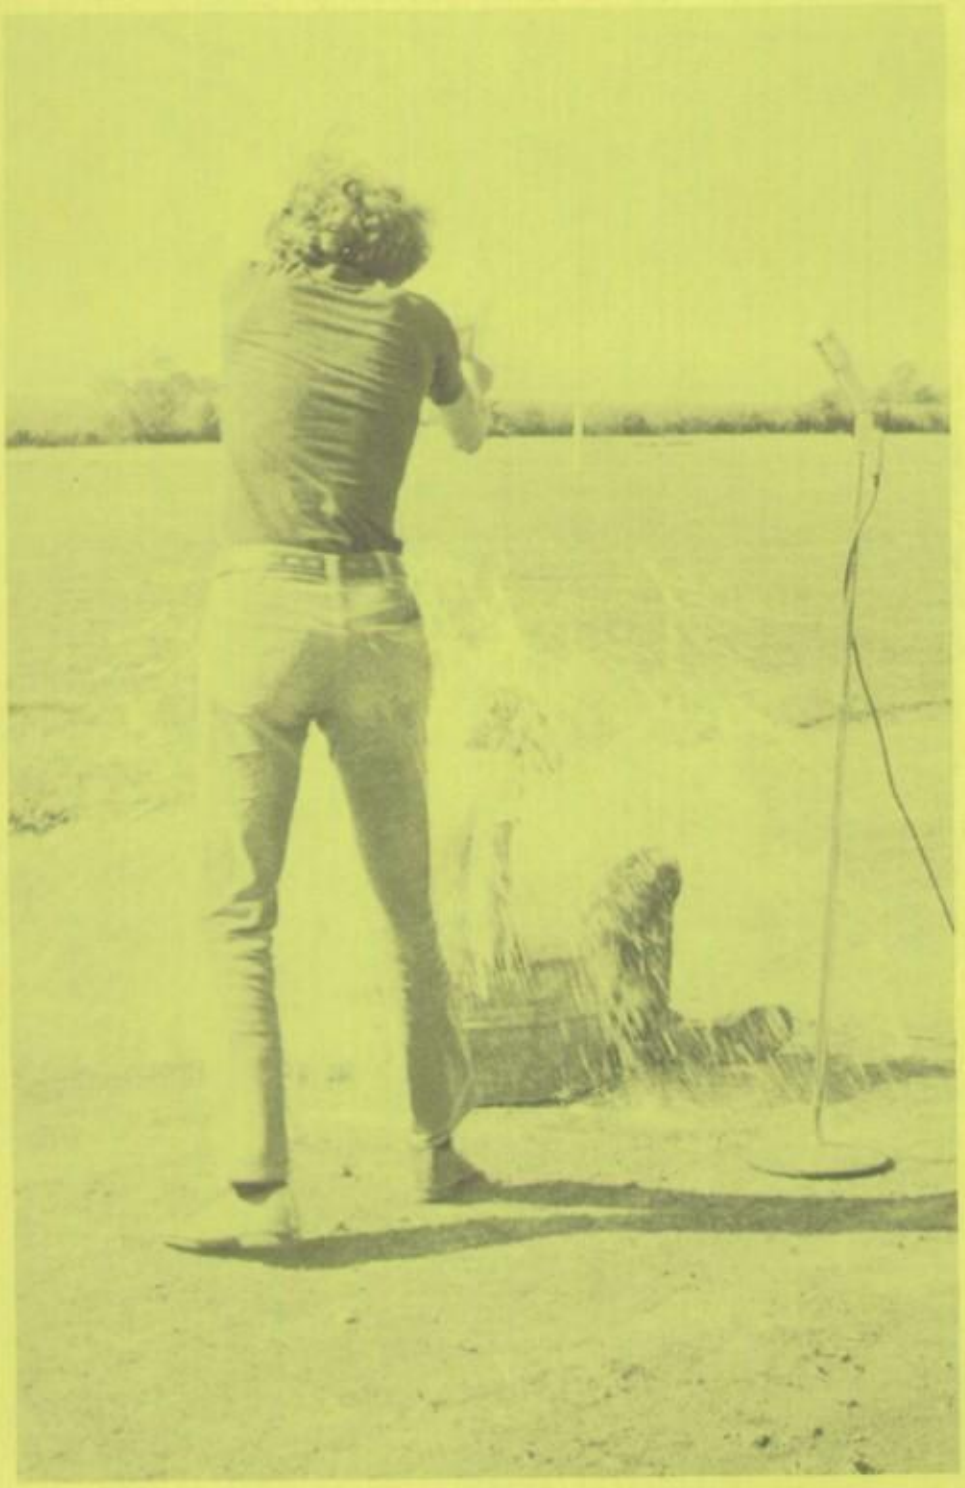
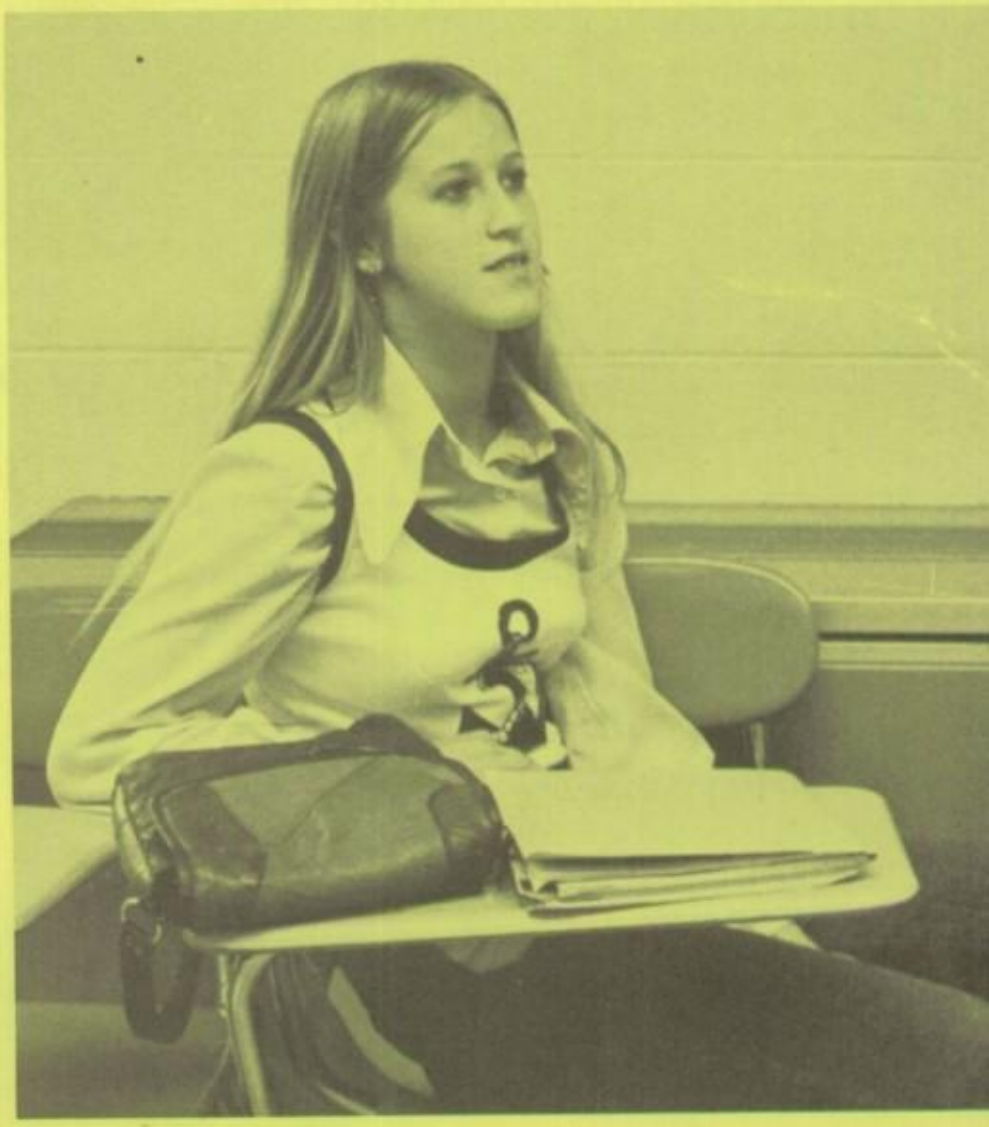
we, the future
of mankind.

Right: Randy Taylor and Charlotte Danforth synchronize their thoughts. Lower right: Kevin Hamer and Sandi Bryant take an imaginary walk along the Champs D'Elysses. Below: Gary Hess dreams of a new set of clothes as David Readnour adds the finishing touches to the Cougar Spirit Cake.





STUDENT LIFE

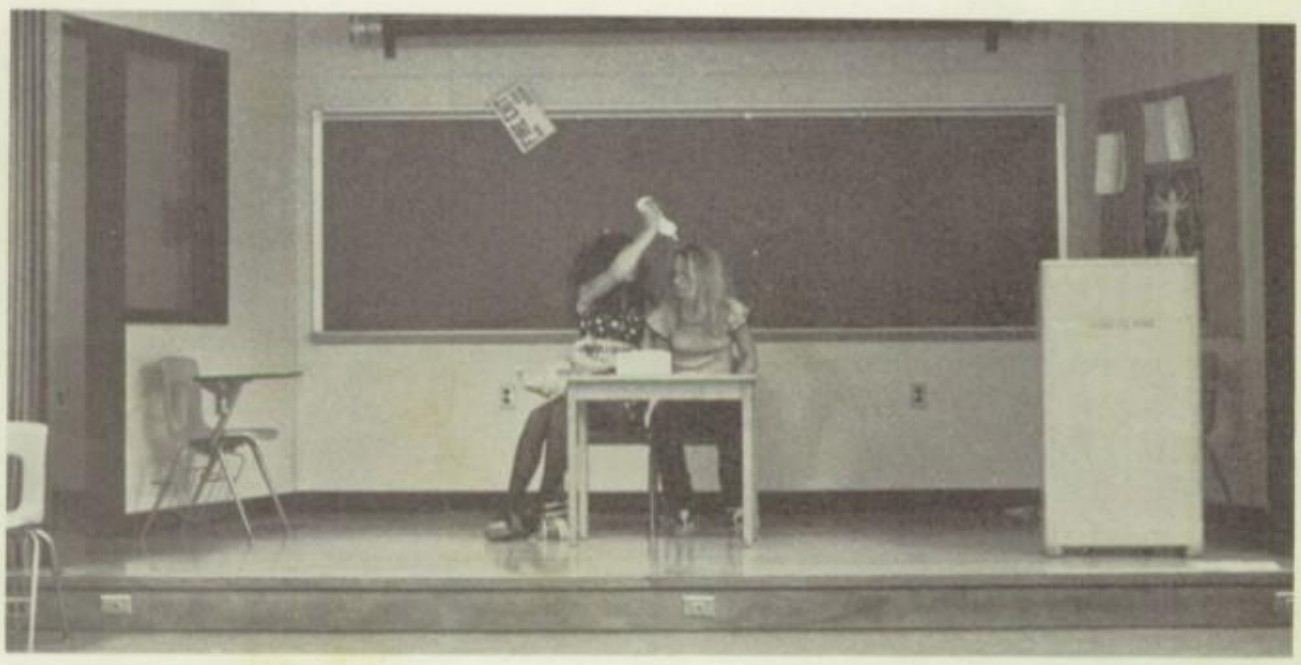
Dramatic Diversity

A computorized Christmas, a comical Thanksgiving, and a medieval fairy tale. This is not the description of science fiction books or the Brother's Grimm. These topics were the subject of the three dramatic productions staged this year. The spring musical, "Once Upon a Mattress," was the major performance. An almost unbelievable amount of time and effort goes into musical dramas.

The drama club is also planning to institute the Thespian Society here at S.D. This is an honorary society for drama club members having enough points for admission.

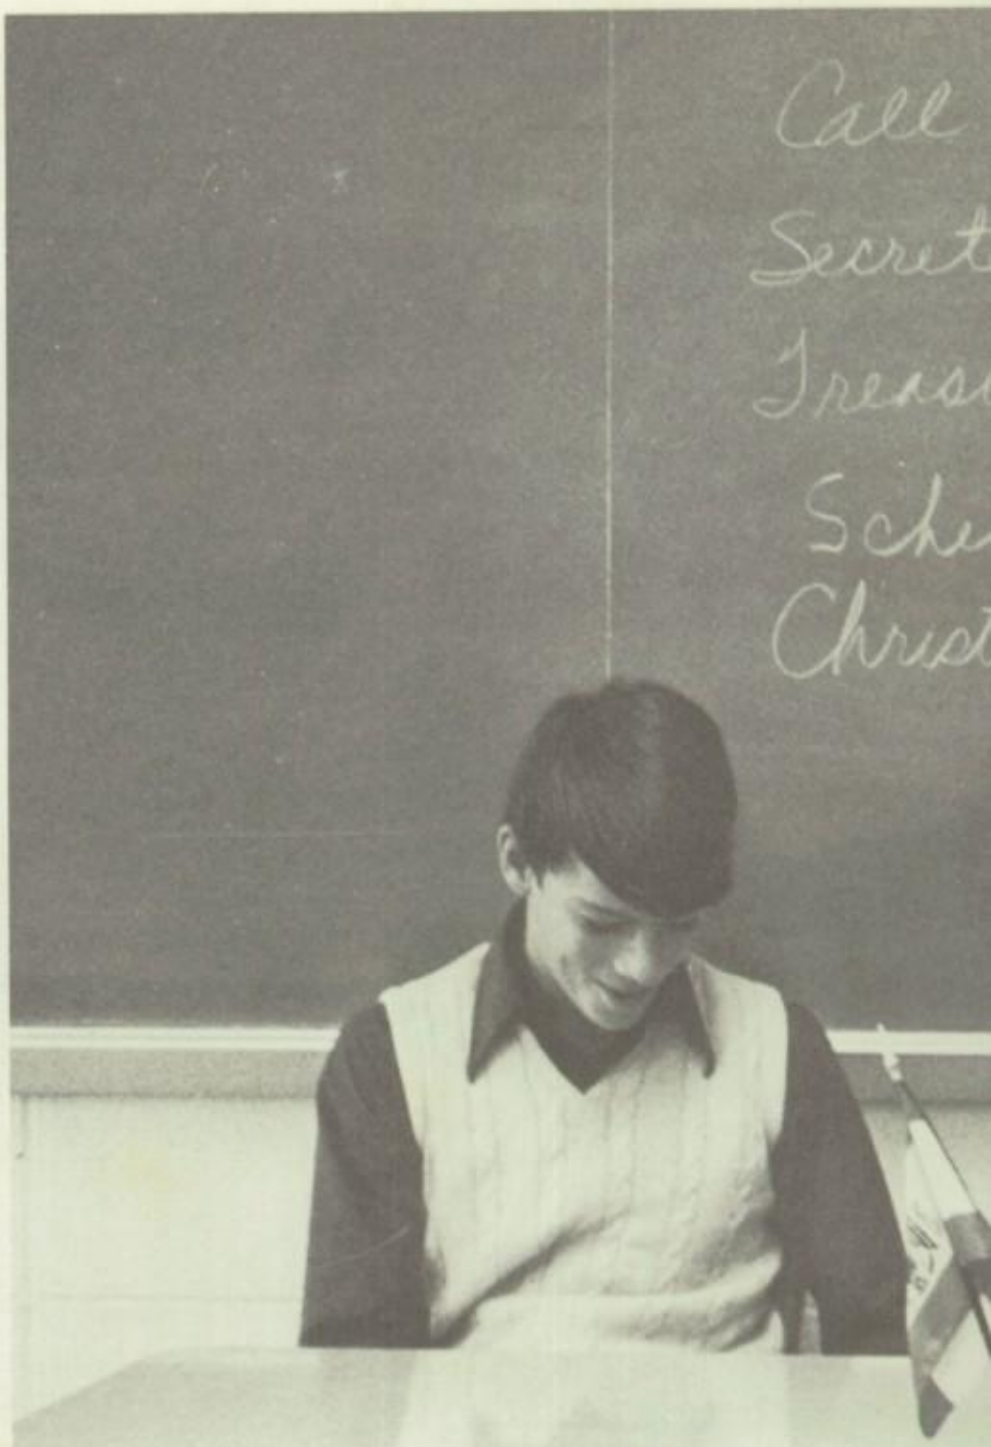


Drama Club: First Row: Daryl Thompson, Joyce McClellan, Toni Whitis, Barb Reed, Cindy Hamilton, Dale Helms, treasurer, Jean Schoettmer, secretary, Bobbi Blauvelt, vice-president, Debby Hensley, President, Pat Ryle, Kathy Miller, Janet Hulse, Debbie Hitchell, Debbie Herbert, Ruth Krzyzanowski, Debbie Brown, Sharon Hensley, Ellen Mainion, Susan AmRhein, Kay Bruns, Becky Tetrick. Second Row: Chuck Sharp, Karen Ogle, Barb Hahn, Susan Gorman, Sherry Frodge, Chris Hodson, Pam Adams, Annette Biddinger, Mary Jane Cromer, Kim Agnew, Lisa Jacobs, Teresa Frodge, Aloha Smith, Roberta Veerkamp, June Gorman, Kathy Allen, Nellie Jayne, Gwen Dunklebarger, Janet Hancher, Vanessa Hodson, Mary Deweese, Mary K. Schoettmer, Brenda Cruser, Carol Veerkamp. Third Row: Delton Apsley, Pam Gault, Jayne Burgess, Cindy Thackery, Jeanne Wilkinson, Tony Kroger, Terri Hull, Mike Cannon, Janet Smith, Belinda Shrader, Teresa Tomlinson, Bonnie Duvall, Sandy Hitchell, Sharon Martin, Deanna Byard, Anita Marshall, Debbie Bokelman, Donna Fogle, Phyllis Powers, Rosalie Combs, Teresa Studler, Lucinda McAuliffe. Fourth Row: Jim Anderson, Willie Maddux, Justin England, Cindy Maddux, Donna Caldwell, Chloe Hess, Patricia Cathey, Marcia Martin, Dianne Gatewood, Gary Hess, Kevin Capper, David Bales, Randy Taylor, Jeff Williams.

Foreign Legions

Watch closely and you might see the Foreign Language Club of South Decatur make their television debut on Laugh In. During club meetings the French and Spanish classes perform skits. The meetings start out with the business but rapidly progress into entertaining comedies.

However, all is not fun and games. The club works hard on worthwhile projects. Their plans included presenting a play for the student body. They also built a float for the Homecoming Parade.



French Club: Richard Louden, Kevin McCullough, Charlene Rudical, Jim Stuart, Julie Osting, Linda Phillips, Steve Thompson, Linda Glasson, Barb England, Brian Jones, Kim Quirk, Sharon Beatty, Pam Campbell, Mary Jo Mauer, Carolyn Hitchell, Kim Smith, Marlene Sidwell, Karen Klipsch, Steve AmRhein, Phyllis Powers, Donna Fogle, Debbie Brown, Carol Richardson, Beverly McKelvey, Lisa Johnson, Brian Wonn, Marcia Bass, Janet Herbert, Debbie Nieman, Mary Keel, Michelle Hermesch, Daryl Thompson, Jim Israel, Debbie Herbert, Jean Schoettmer, Ruth Krzyzanowski, Debbie Hitchell.

Far left: Foreign Language Club members are standing room only during club meetings. Left: Having a good time seems to be the order of business as President Steve Thompson and Vice President Keith Hooten reign over a meeting of Foreign Language Club. Below: Mrs. Brookshire checks her busy schedule while members of the Foreign Language Club discuss plans for the next meeting.

Math and History . . . Now Less of a Mystery

If the Math and History departments were to be described in one word, that word might be "relevant". These two subjects are so closely associated with our daily routines that we often aren't even aware of them. We use basic mathematics to count change, average our quiz grades, and other such simple functions. Everyone of us is a part of the government and need to be aware of our role in government.

South should indeed be proud of its Math Department as it has represented us very well in Statewide Math contests year after year.

Abracadabra . . .

"That's not red. I can see plenty of blue, but I can't see any red." When the Science Club tried to produce colors by spinning a black and white reel, it succeeded. The only controversy was over what colors had been produced. By means of majority rule, it was finally determined that some of the members were color blind.

The Science Club has always attracted much interest and attention. Yet the call for next year is a strong one. Most of the members graduated, leaving only a handful of scientists behind. And the record for successive years of not entering projects in the Greensburg Science Fair remains unbroken. It is that record which must be demolished.

Vocational Training Keeps on Truckin'

The Vocational Education department is the most important department for many of our students, particularly those who are not planning to attend college. We have excellent facilities and a broad curriculum. Not only such courses as typing, and shorthand, but agriculture shop, metals, woods, and drafting prepare a large number of students for good jobs after graduation.

Girls Prepare for the Future

How do you get cleaner, brighter teeth? See a Sunshine girl and buy a toothbrush. The girls made a handsome profit and put it to good use. One Hundred twenty-five dollars was given to the Seibel family. The girls also collected for the March of Dimes.

The future Homemakers help beautify the female students each year by selling jewelry. This year a few other niceties were added to the sales table. Snoopy dogs and "Love" signs were also available. The money made from the sales are used to further the interest of the club.

FFA Has a Fruitful Year

The FFA financed their various activities this year by selling Florida oranges, grapefruits, and tangelos. Among the programs enjoyed by club members were various speaker engagements concerning such topics as types of Indiana farms and veterinary science. The yearly greenhand ceremony was conducted during the time allotted for club meetings. After the ceremony, the greenhands proudly displayed their left hands which were dipped in green dye.

The 1972-73 FFA Sweetheart was Pam Gault. Pam represented the South Decatur chapter in the district FFA meeting.

Cage Staff Adds New Features

This year's Cage Staff worked hard at producing the best newspaper ever to come from our school. New features such as Tom's Top Ten, which listed the favorite songs of the month, and the many editorial sections increased the interest level and gave students an opportunity to express opinions, ask questions, and register complaints.

Editor Debbie Bokelman, assisted by Kathy Thompson, directed the operation. Mr. Hoke and Mrs. Mollaun were the sponsors.

Cougarama '73 . . . We Done It?

A year of endless deadlines, or so it seemed to the Cougarama Staff. Layouts took priority over homework and calloused fingers became commonplace from writing and typing. The work was tough, but the idea of producing a modern and exciting yearbook prevailed.

The majority of staff members had no experience when the year began. However, that condition soon changed for the better. Editor Larry Gatewood, with the help of Mr. Ciscell, soon dished out the work. Meetings were not held after school, especially not after the sponsor's car doors were frozen one night until eight o'clock!

Band Aides in Various Functions

This year's band had the privilege of playing at an Indiana Pacer's ball game Dec. 6. Their repertoire included many new sounds such as "Theme from Shaft", "Colour my World", and "25 or 6 to 4". Besides playing at all the home ball games, the band participated in the Pumpkin Festival at Versailles and the annual Westport Bar B Q.

The band achieved a more delicate sound with the addition of bell lyre and more flutes. The clarinets were the largest section in the band followed closely by the trumpets. The music making was enjoyed and appreciated by all who heard it.

The marching Cougars contributed spirit in ample amounts by playing at pep sessions and being in charge of the pep session preceding the holiday tourney. Band members also shared their vocal support at football and basketball games.

More Polished With Each Performance

Many changes were made in the choral music at South Decatur this year. Music students learned music, not just notes. As the year progressed, so did improvement. With each performance the sound became more polished.

The junior high choir was larger than ever. The girls and boys acted out skits to their songs at the Thanksgiving convocation.

The SSA choir sang many contemporary songs and worked hard at achieving a well balanced, treble voice sound.

The mixed choir learned about famous musicians from Bach to Louie Armstrong. Students worked hard on little things that add so much to music. At convocations and programs, it was evident that the work had paid off.

The Swing Choir took on a new look with long, colorful, skirts over black jumpsuits for the girls, and bright colored shirts and ties that matched the girls' skirts for the boys. The group performed frequently at such things as the district Kiwanis meeting and local Lion's club.

Members of the Treblettes, not pictured, are: Sandy Hitchell, Judy Compton, Barbara Reed, Gail Holcomb, Chloe Hess, Rita Proctor, June Gorman, Martha Buchanan, Debbie Bense, and Phyllis Mozingo.

All choirs were under the able direction of Miss Terry Hoyt, a graduate of Indiana Central College. Miss Hoyt majored in piano, but also proved herself a capable vocal instructor.

Young Musicians Band Together

The junior high music department was bigger and better than ever. The choir had seventy-one members and the band consisted of thirty-six members. A class of this size poses an exciting challenge to any teacher and Mr. Renfro and Miss Hoyt met that challenge quite successfully. The students learned to appreciate music and the enrichment it can give.

The junior high choir performed skits at the Thanksgiving and Christmas convocations. The skits included a wedding, a turkey, and a Grandfather's clock.

The Junior high band could be heard tuning up each day by the fifth period study hall. All totaled, the band practiced one hundred seventy-five hours this year. That much practice will no doubt pay off in the years to come.

Who knows? Perhaps the foundation has been laid for a potential famous musician.

The Agony And the Ecstasy

The Art Club is dedicated to the expansion of South Decatur's creative horizons. Each year the members are actively involved in bringing about a cultural awareness among their fellow students and developing their own artistic abilities. South's Spring Art Exhibit has become an annual event and 1973 was no exception. Work in every imaginable media was displayed for critical analysis and appreciation.

Miss Basketball?

Boys beware! The girls are making their move. The IHSAA ruling that girls can participate in non-contact sports makes them eligible for track, tennis and swimming. At S.D. this was quite a controversial issue. Nonetheless, it is a big step forward for girls athletics. The G.A.A. will become more active than ever in future years.

— Just imagine in years to come a female student of South Decatur being named "Miss Basketball".

Action Factions

The year was a busy one for the Student Council. In addition to the numerous plans made for Homecoming, the school policy underwent monumental change. Married students are now able to participate in all school activities.

South hosted a meeting of all student councils in the Mid Hoosier conference with the purpose of discussing common problems and hopefully common solutions.

"Service is our business, our only business" might be the motto for the Key Club. They raise money to help the needy at Christmas time and get us out of class when they sponsor a film convocation. What more could we want! These boys are a credit to our school and community.

Small Groups with Plans for the Future

"Support your team, wear a smile." This was the slogan of the NHS Sales Campaign. To raise money for the spring initiation, the club sold furry maroon key chains and smile buttons. They netted a profit of seventy-two dollars. Supplies for initiation on March 8 took a major portion of the gain. A maximum of 16 new members could be inducted this year, 4 Seniors and 12 Juniors. The initiation of new members is the primary function of the club, as it is an honorary and not a service club.

The Future Teachers are a small club but they are by no means inactive. Included among their plans for the year was a trip to the Indiana Central campus, to the State Convention and to Indiana University. The club met in the Guidance office with their sponsor, Mrs. Maddox. One need not be firmly committed to a teaching profession in order to join the club. It is designed to investigate the different aspects of a teaching career.

Assistance Is Always Near

South Decatur's custodial and services staff is an indispensable part of our school. They maintain our building, grounds, and offices, some on a twenty-four hour basis. Despite their long hours and tedious work, they maintain their cheerful disposition.

Cheerleaders Initiate School Spirit

"Roses are Red, Violets are blue, we are the Cougars and we're gonna beat you." Signs were everywhere during football and basketball season this year. Much of the time the decor of team members lockers took on a new look on the inside. This decorating program was initiated by the cheerleaders. The signs were only a part of the effort to raise school spirit. Pep Sessions were better than ever this year involving more and more people. The freshman and reserve squads participated in tourneys this year as well as the varsity and Junior high.

Varsity Triumphs on the Gridiron

7 Wins in Second Season

The 1972 football team compiled an impressive 7-3 record. This was quite an achievement for a second year varsity club. Many schools go for three or four seasons without a win. Speed, hard work and determination made up for the overall smallness of the team.

Several new teams were added to the schedule. Despite the tougher competition, the Cougar defense held their opponents to an average of 10 points per game while scoring a 26 point average themselves.

The first annual fall athletic banquet was held November 6. Awards were presented to Dan Gault for Most Valuable Player, "Moose" Myers for the best defensive lineman, Gary Gault, best defensive back, Roger Harrison, best offensive lineman, Dwight Ferris, best offensive back, Dennis Hagerty, most improved player.

A Year Of Preparation

The reserve football squad was a dedicated group this year. They proved they had the potential to become winners on the varsity gridiron. Under the able guidance of Mr. Mollaun the team came up with an even .500 record.

The team was a young one and often played against older and larger teams. A few of the members gained valuable varsity experience this year in substitute roles. It looks as if the S.D. football program will continue to prosper.

On Line With 11-9

The mighty roar of the Cougars was heard throughout neighboring gyms this year. Our team dribbled their way to our best record yet, 11-9.

For the second year in a row we were the "County Champs", beating North Decatur and Greensburg. Our success was largely due to balanced scoring and good depth.

Senior forward Greg Cruser passed the 1,000 point mark against Triton Central. Jack Emly joined this elite group last year, making South Decatur one of the few schools to have players of their caliber two successive years.

Reserves Find Season a Bit Too Short

The reserve team was like the month of March this year: they came in like a lamb and went out like a lion. After getting off to a slow start, the boys put together enough hustle and desire to win seven of their last nine games.

The future Cougars were runners-up in the Invitational Tourney at Edinburg. If the improved play of the Reserve team is any indication of the teams to come, the outlook is bright for next year.

Mulroney's Hoopers Finish At 8-5

The freshmen cagers compiled a respectable 8-5 record for the season under Coach Mulroney. They even won one game in which the score was 35-50, the other team's favor! The ninth graders in fact won two games by forfeit. Sound like an unusual season? Well, maybe so, but it was a good season too. The boys put in hours of practice and put up with small crowds and still played good basketball.

A Slow Start Is Still A Beginning

"What's that funny smell?"

This and similar questions were heard around South this year upon the arrival of our wrestling mats. This was the first year of competition for S.D. as a team. Last year some interested boys participated in intra squad wrestling.

Our 1-11 record is not indicative of our teams steady improvement. Many of the team members are underclassmen and will make their presence felt in future competition. One of the more improved wrestlers was Tom Smith, a sophomore who pinned and decisioned his way to 4 wins, 5 losses and 2 ties.

In order to create interest in wrestling, two convocations were held during the school day. The first match featured our team against North Decatur, and the student body certainly sounded interested.

Laying the Groundwork

The junior high boys at S.D. can choose from football, basketball, and track, thus providing a broad area of participation. The boys in their respective sports compiled some very good records. Regardless of the record, all the participants gained valuable experience.

The 7th grade football team was 0-3 on the year but the 8th grade came up with a 3-4 record. The junior high track team grabbed third place in the Batesville Invitational meet. The 7th and 8th grade basketball teams compiled 8-3 and 7-6 records respectively.

The 1972 track team looked good this year as they faced some tough competition. The cindermen showed heart and determination, which is essential to a successful season. Records were broken in several different events. The mile relay team, consisting of Jim Stuart, Greg Cruser, Dwight Ferris, and Monte Hoover, turned in a record time of 3:46.6. Dwight Ferris hurdled to a speedy 17.3 clocking. Tim Mauer turned in a 4:49.5 time in the mile. Jim Stuart did the 880 in record time as did Greg Cruser in the 220. Kevin Allen pole vaulted to a record eleven feet, nine inches.

Cross Country is perhaps the most grueling of all sports and participants must have dedication, heart, and stamina. The long-distance runners of this year's team proved they possessed all three. There is little glory in an individual sport but hours of practice are required which instills self-discipline. Although South won no dual meets, the team had more members and made a better showing than previous years. Mike Cox was the outstanding two and one-half miler. Mike was third in the conference meet this year which is quite an achievement. Since many of the members are underclassmen, the future looks bright indeed.

Baseball Team Crashes Into Regional

Our season began with the biggest schedule of games ever at S.D. — 26. Our team got underway slowly but improvement was evident with every game. A record total of ten home runs was knocked in with Dan Gault pacing this mark with four. The junior catcher also led the team in batting average.

The team peaked in the last half of the season winning six of the last eight games. The Cougars then went on to become the first Decatur County school to win the Sectional Crown. We were also proud to have Jack Emly, Monte Hoover, Mark Asher, and Dan Gault named to the all-sectional team. The final record for the spring season was thirteen wins and eight losses. South Decatur showed its prowess during the summer schedule winning nine of their fifteen games.

Beginners Soon Learn the Game

"Watch out you guys!" This and other cries of warning were heard as the members of the '72 golf team began practice in the spring. All were beginners, each swinging a club for nearly the first time. Though Coach Mollaun's outfielders were always ducking and coach Denny's runners often raced golf balls, no one discouraged the golfers from practicing.

South played nine reserve teams, nine holes per game, with home games at the Greensburg Country Club. Although the team lost all their games, valuable experience was gained for next year's season.

Above: Brian Vanest prepares for a shot with a seven-iron just off the green. This method, taught by Coach Seibel, consists of a putting stroke which lifts the ball over the short turf and scoots it toward the hole. Above center: Larry Gatewood prepares to putt on the second green as his Greensburg opponent watches. Concentration is especially important on the green, since a short putting stroke counts the same as a long drive off the tee.

The golf team was recognized at South's first fall banquet. All the members received first year letters. The trophy for the most improved player was awarded to Steve Thompson.

First Sectional On Home Court

South Decatur's volleyball squad had the honor of hosting the first volleyball sectional ever to be held in Decatur County. Participants were: Jac-Cen-Del, Whitewater, North Dearborn, Batesville, and the sectional champ, North Decatur.

Although losing eight games, the outlook for next year is bright as the team was composed largely of juniors.

In Memory . . .

Life, with all its complexities, is the most wonderful gift man has.
Only when a life very dear to us is taken away do we realize the wealth we possess. Death came to South Decatur suddenly and cruelly; its presence was felt in everyone's heart.
The loss of Mr. Seibel was beyond understanding. His life was a great influence and help to all who knew him.
Perhaps he still has a profound effect on those closest to him. Perhaps he is still coaching. Mr. Seibel will never die in the hearts of those who knew him.

Administration, Service, Health, and Guidance

This year's administration seemed to be more flexible than in past years. More field trips were O.K.'d, and many old traditions were changed or done away with. Cooperation between faculty, students, and the administration is imperative to a smooth system. There will always be differences of opinion but the willingness to hear both sides of arguments is the mainstay of an efficient administration and school.

Diversity, Innovation, and Unending Dedication

Variety: This is perhaps the best word to describe the S.D. faculty. Teachers have every kind of talent from a black belt in Judo to a virtuoso in music. This wide background enhances the ability to relate to the students. The classes were well taught, interesting and often innovative. After a year of helpful classes and concerned teachers, it's easy to see that teachers are truly human after all.

The End of The Beginning

"You can walk over any mountain one step at a time." Such was the attitude of the Senior Class, and for this reason they chose the phrase as their motto. It typified the '73 Seniors as they completed the final lap of their 12 mile race. The daisy was picked as their class flower, and their colors were ice blue and navy blue.

Once again the Seniors reigned the halls of South Decatur. But this year was different for the Class of '73. They were the Seniors, and the opportunity came only once in a lifetime. And they were about to let it pass them by.

Juniors . . . One Step from the Real World

Juniors were active in every facet of school life. The magazine sales exceeded $1700. An amount of seven hundred dollars was allotted for the Jr.-Sr. prom. The prom steering committee, headed by Delton Apsley, began making plans early to avoid the last minute rush. The plans for the prom, various school activities and the anticipation of being "almost a Senior" seemed to make the year fly. Yet, these very things made the junior year a memorable one.

Sophomores. . .More Than a Ring and a License

With the adjustment of the first year of high school behind them, the sophomores began to get the feel of life at S.D. The second year of high school holds the much looked forward to ordering of class rings. For many it holds the long anticipated driver's license.

The sophomore English classes started a "word of the week" program. Each week a new word was chosen and displayed at various places throughout the building. It exposed many new and useful words to students and added to everyone's vocabulary.

Freshmen . . . No Time For Looking Back

The Freshman year of high school is characterized by the beginning of college prep courses and the excitement of finally being in high school. Students begin to take their schoolwork more seriously. They are able to join clubs and participate in more activities. Also, the freshmen are able to have class parties off the school grounds. The class took advantage of this new found privilege and had an ice-skating party in January.

8th Grade . . . A Feeling of Being

Grade school is over, high school has not yet begun, and the eighth grade students are left in the middle. Class parties still must be on school grounds since most clubs are not designed for junior high students and activities are limited. The class of '77 was certainly a part of the school, however. Their voice was heard throughout the year.

With the end of the year comes the excitement of preparing "high school" schedules, preparation for the final four years when thoughts turn to the future. The 8th graders are a part of that future, along with all the students at South.

7th Grade . . . A New Threshold

Diving into a new life, from grade school to junior high, is a mixture of good times and seemingly insurmountable problems. After a brief period of struggling with locker combinations and fighting the bells to get to class on time, the eager seventh graders soon adjust and learn to fit into the pattern of life at South Decatur.

For seventh graders, the year is always one to remember; new friends are made and exciting discoveries are chanced. But it's only the beginning, and perhaps that is the most exciting discovery of all!

The Year 1972-73 . . . Gone but Not Forgotten

What is a school year? It is a combination of people and events, different for each location and school. For Seniors, it is the beginning of a new journey into life. For everyone, it is one year in a lifetime, and one that should not be forgotten.

Homecoming . . . A Display of Unity

The first football homecoming was a huge success! The Senior float bearing the theme "Spirit of '73" was judged the winner from a field of five other floats. Various clubs and classes constructed the floats, working after school to stuff the chicken wire and hammer the nails.

During half time, Kay Bruns was crowned Homecoming Queen for 1973. The evening was topped off perfectly by a forty to six victory over Milan.

1973 Homecoming Court: Cyndi Ogle, Richard Louden, Linda Bruns, Mike Cox, Beverly Brown, and Randy Taylor.

Queen Candidates and Escorts: Linda Hamilton, Steve Steir, Sharon Hensley, Larry Gatewood, Ruth Krzyzanowski, Bill Galloway, Kay Bruns, and Terry Maddux.

Dream on . . .

The 1972 Junior, Senior prom broke a long tradition and was held in the cafeteria and the surrounding hallways. "All I Have to Do Is Dream" was the appropriate theme as a Dreamland was created in the cafeteria, featuring a canopy at the entrance opening to a walkway toward the fountain situated in the center of the dance floor. The tables were arranged in the hallways, which were decorated with pastel crepe paper streamers from ceiling to floor. The outdoor courtyard provided the perfect atmosphere for picture taking and reflecting on memories of the preceding year. The girl pages wore pinafore style dresses in lavender and the boy pages wore pastel shirts and knee-length trousers.

Above: Janet Hulse, Jeff Hoy, Bill Galloway, and Ruth Krzyzanowski discuss the evening's events. Above right: Queen Patti Hensley and King Jim Witkemper with their court, from left to right: Dalene Vanderbur, Alan Shireman, Cathi Dale, Jim Gorman, Wanda Bense, and Jack Emly. Right: Junior class President, Vivian McNealy, crowns the Queen.

Student Election Predicts National Outcome

As if there weren't enough exciting events in '72, it was an election year. The national election was a common topic of conversation in the history and government classes. This opportune year was not to pass us by. The junior U.S. History classes decided to take action and stage a mock election.

Ballots were mimeographed and room 113 was transformed into a local poll. Every high school student was allowed to vote. This required registration, receiving the ballot, and then entering the private voting booth.

In our democratic system, the right of the people to vote is an extremely valuable one. Congratulations, students of South Decatur. You have voted, and your voice has been heard.

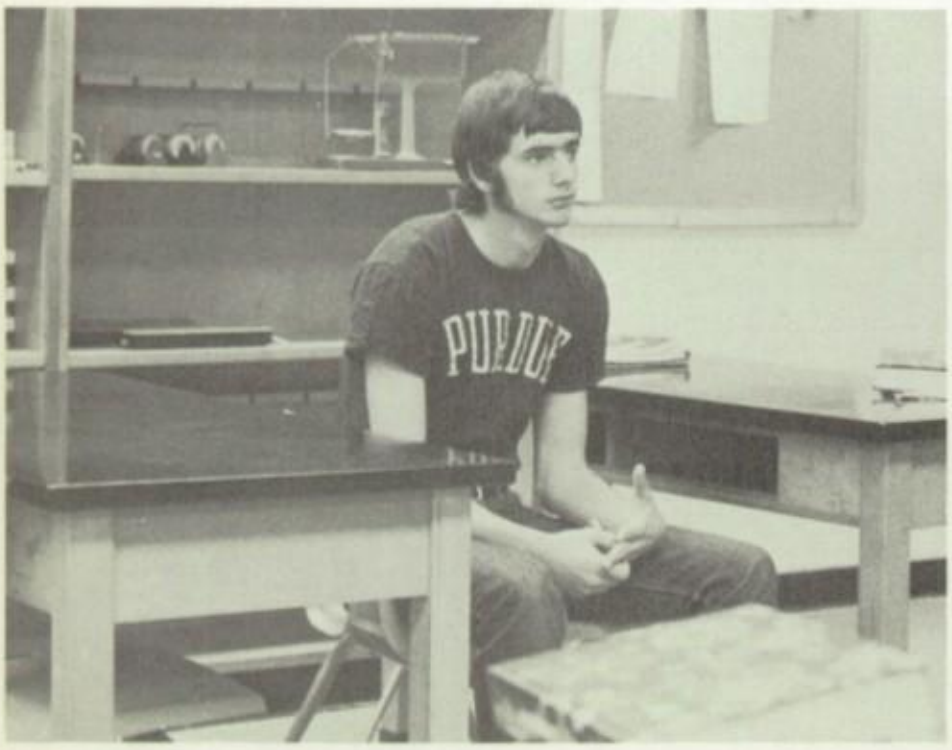
S.D. ELECTION RESULTS

NIXON (R)	75%
McGOVERN (D)	25%
BOWEN (R)	51%
WELSH (D)	49%
HAMILTON (D)	73%
JOHNSON (R)	27%

Twelve Years Later . . .



Upper left: As Dennis Hagerty awaits the beginning of Chemistry class, his mind appears to be wandering toward Friday night's game. Upper right: Debbie Bokelman, Dale Helms, Phyllis Powers, and Donna Fogle enjoy one of their last dances before graduation. Above: Seniors utilize the facilities of our library to do research on one of their many term papers. Right: Mr. Hickey focuses the attention of his Government class toward current events. Far right: Phylis seems overpowered by tomorrow's chemistry assignment.

1973! For 12 years 1973 has sounded like a fictional figure. It was a long way off, and the only time we gave it any thought was during Halloween when '73 appeared on many windows.

The class of 1973 was a group of anticipant 8th graders when South Decatur was born. Classmates were "Strange new faces in a strange new world." Our last year in junior high seemed but a fleeting moment as the days were filled with making new acquaintances and adjusting to a "big" school.

Next came the magic of the first year in high school! Freshman necessities included purchasing "greenie" cards from the Senior boys, joining various organizations, and being an involved high school student.

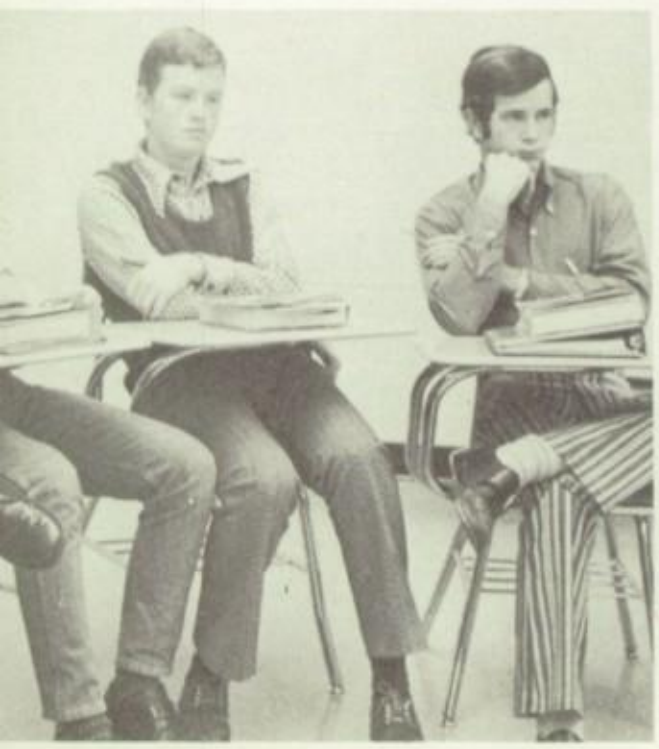
Adjustment to high school routine was behind us and we felt more a part of the school as Sophomores. The class of '73 was involved in everything from varsity basketball to Drama Club. We began to make our presence felt. The momentum seemed to carry over in our junior year. We began to realize our high school years were rapidly passing, and it seemed as if everyone wanted to make the last two years count. Free time was almost non-existent as everyone was caught up in magazine sales, planning for the prom and enjoying life.

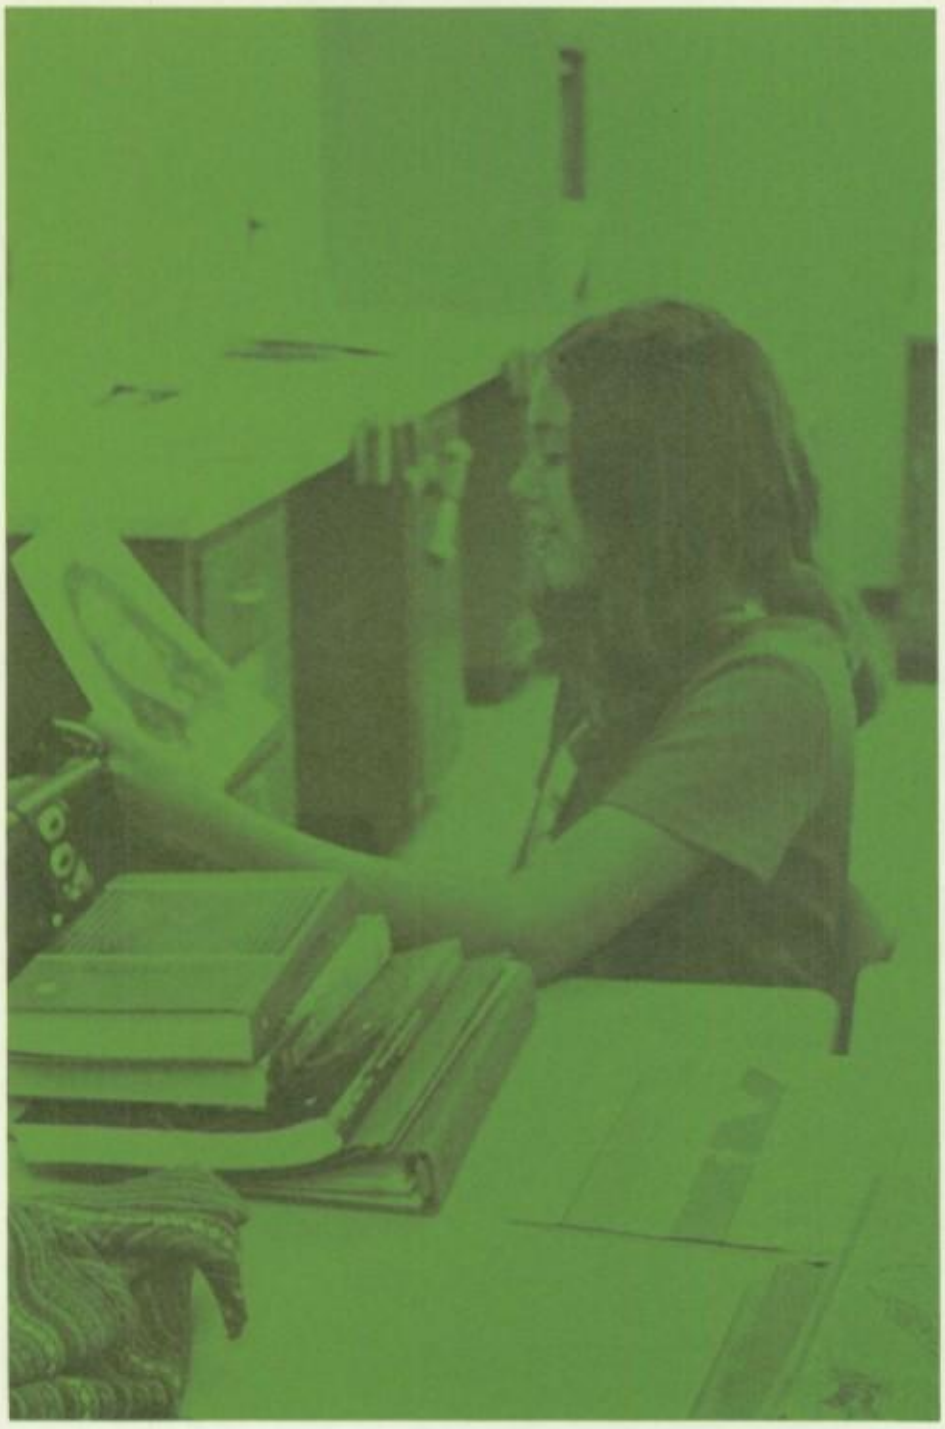
Suddently we were Seniors! September had arrived and we were entering the last year of our journey through high school. We got our Senior pictures, ordered our announcements, and selected our class motto, colors, and flower.

Graduation. May, 1973 was a month of mixed feelings. Big decisions had to be made. Decisions about college, marriage, and jobs were but a few. Profound, as well as trivial thoughts were whizzing in and out of heads. Graduation was a gate being opened and a gate being closed. Never again would we be high school students, never again would we be able to get into a dance without a guest pass.

But we couldn't let our thoughts dwell too long on things coming to an end for too many adventures were ahead. For quite a while parents, teachers, and friends had been urging us to "grow up". Along with May came the realization that it really was time to do it. Not only did we have to grow up, we had to grow away. Away from our high school routine, away from parents, and away from friends. The hope of establishing new, more satisfying routines, and meeting new friends posed an exciting challenge.

Yes, there is war, pollution, over-population, and a seemingly endless supply of hate. These problems have been left to us because answers could not be found. We must not leave them to our children. We have the power, the means, and most of all the will to make a better world. School has been the first step.





The Individual . . . One Person Alone

South Decatur provides many opportunities for all of its students. The success of any one person, however, depends on how much he wants to accomplish and how hard he tries. Such is the individual . . . one person with the power to determine his own future and direct his own life.

Upper left: Mike Parish is hard at work in chemistry class. Center: Debbie Nieman examines her school pictures. Above: Tom Sawyer (alias Mr. Bedford) whitewashes the fence which surrounds our football field. Far left: Greg Mattox tees off at the Greensburg golf match. Left: Lisa Bryant enjoys a few minutes of leisure time.

Seventh Grade Reigns Supreme In Patron Ad Sales

SDHS students have a right to be proud of this year's patron ad program. It provided all students with an opportunity to save money AND improved the quality and size of our yearbook at the same time.

The idea for this program originated here at S.D.H.S. last year. This year it was used throughout the country under the direction of our Kansas-based yearbook publisher, Inter-Collegiate Press. Several high schools across the country reported success, and South Decatur, where the whole thing started, was not about to become an exception.

Each Cougarama actually costs more than eight dollars. Students are required to pay less than half of the total cost with the balance coming from local merchants through their advertising.

Each summer and during the first few weeks of school, members of the Cougarama staff get valuable experience in salesmanship. They put on their warmest "contribute to a good cause" smile and commence invading places of business throughout a seventy mile radius.

Selling ads to finance the yearbook involves a great deal of time, effort, and patience. The first step in organizing a sales campaign is to form teams. These teams then go out into the unsuspecting countryside wielding receipts, carbon paper, and ink pens. With the cooperation of many people this year's advertising sales were a huge success.

Most of the activity photographs in the last two editions of the Cougarama were taken by a talented junior named Joyce McClellan.

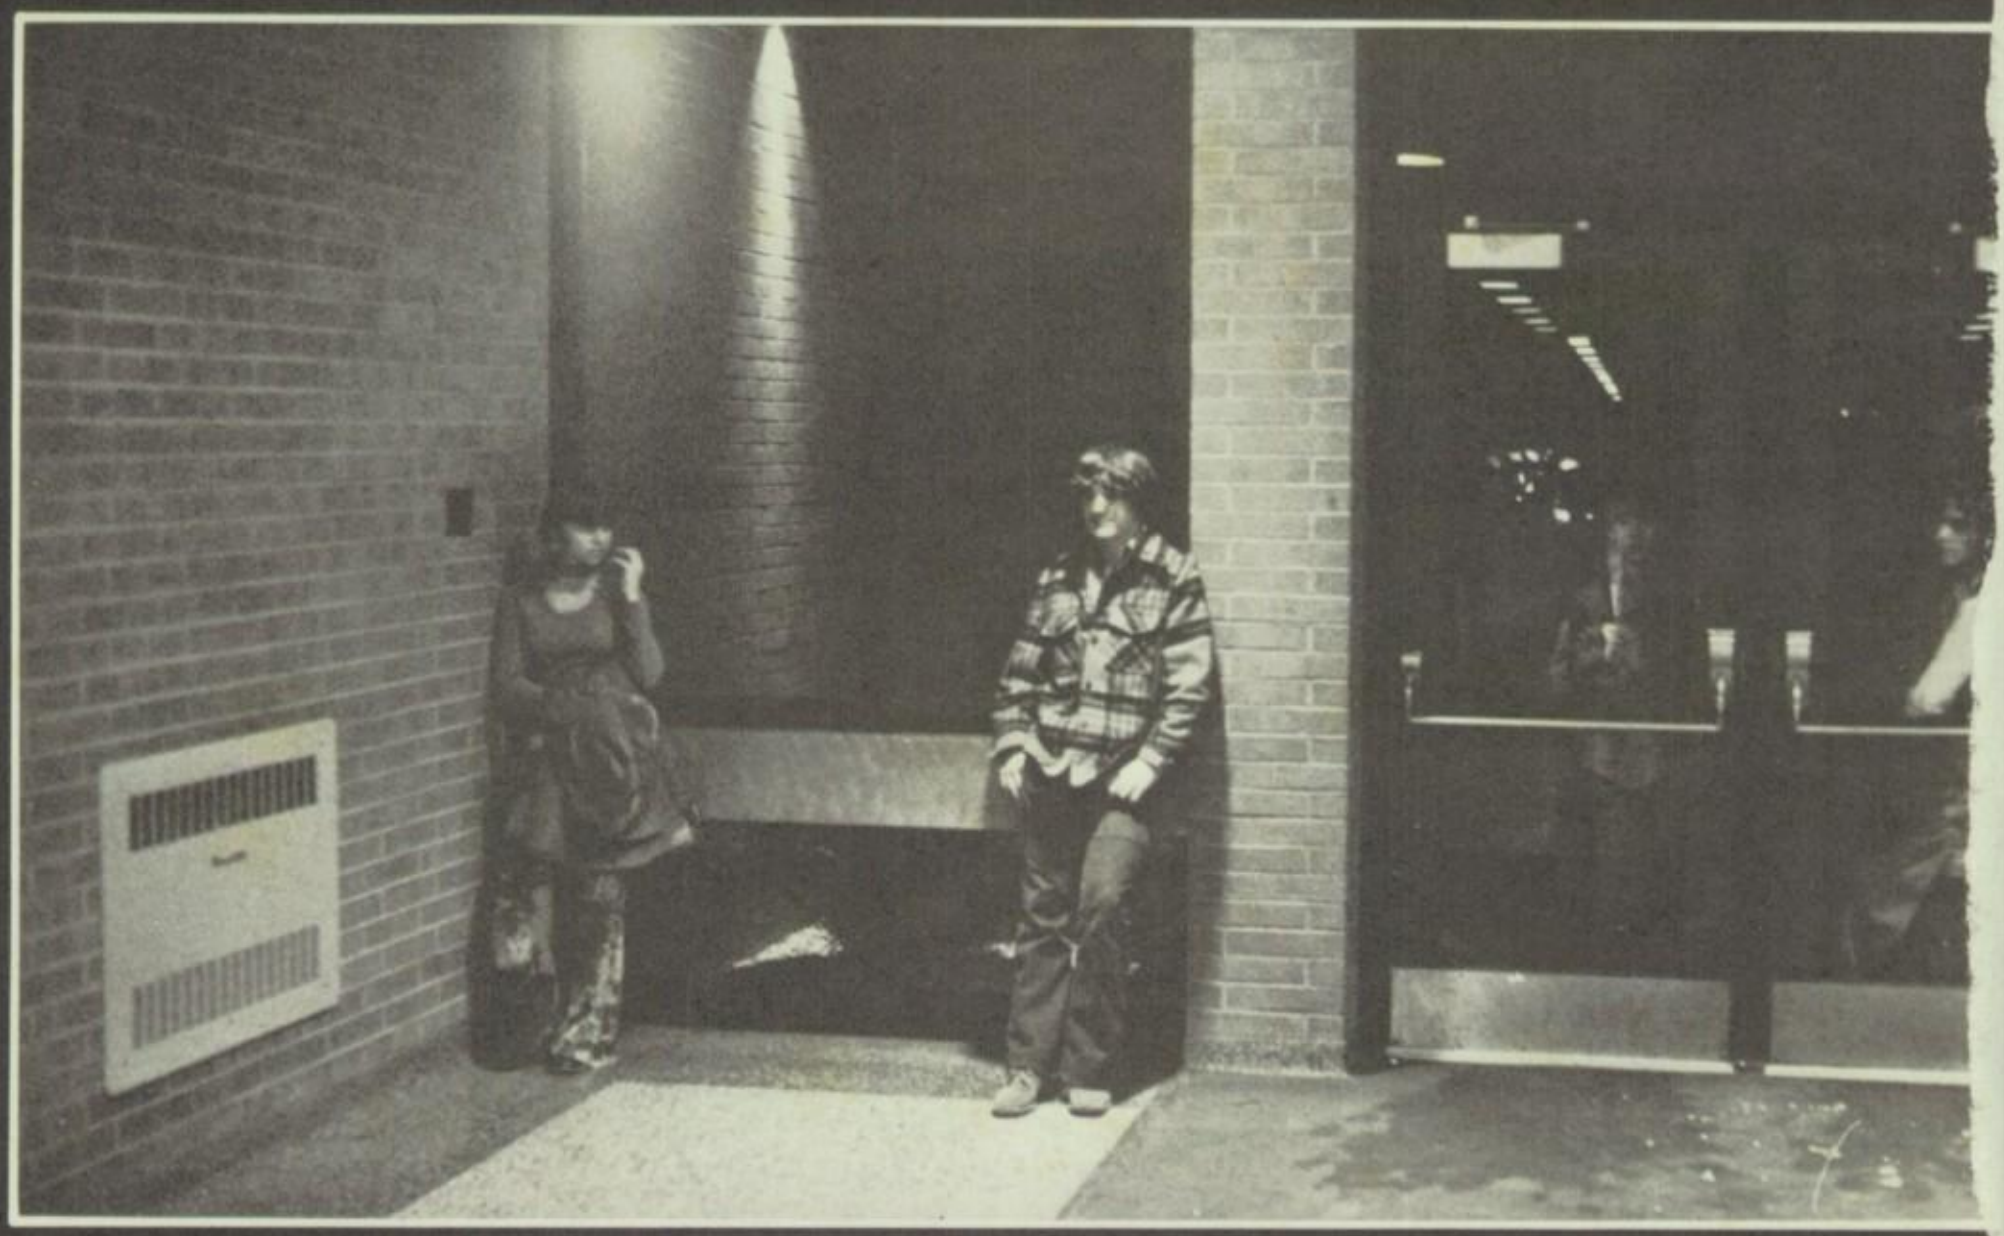
. . . and from the Editor

Once upon a midnight dreary while I pondered weak and weary
Over many a yearbook layout, all of which were such a bore!
As I nodded, nearly napping, suddenly there came a rapping
As of someone gently tapping, tapping at the Art Room door.
" 'Tis Mr. Ciscell," said I, faintly, "tapping at the Art Room door.
Only him and nothing more."

Startled at the stillness broken by the door so quickly opened,
"What!" said I, "I have these pages. Now you tell me you want more?
I am sick of deadlines. I am tired of writing all these headlines.
Homework: there is plenty of it; but I'm stuck with this big chore.
Let me leave this cluttered prison and let me resign from Editor!"
Quote Mr. Ciscell, "Nevermore."


And the Advisor, never flitting, still is sitting, still is sitting In the Art Room, with his posters tacked upon the Art Room door.
And his eyes have all the seeming of a demon's that is dreaming . . .
"What can I do? Why did he tear this stuff and toss it on the floor?"
And my soul from out that yearbook that lies tattered on the floor
Shall be lifted . . . Nevermore!
